

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 301 without my signature.

The establishment of a new commission is not necessary. The Legislature and the Administration can create commissions to advise them without the need for legislation. As I said in my State of the State I am going to “blow up the boxes”; this bill creates new boxes without explaining the need for a new commission. The Legislature and the Administration have many resources to advise them on the issues that this commission is being created for.

For these reasons I am returning Senate Bill 301 without my signature.

Sincerely,

Arnold Schwarzenegger
